Koin.S.Ep. "RECYCLING TO SOURCE"

Recycling today in Patras is at the lowest rates in the country. Of the approximately 100,000 tonnes of litter produced each year, only 8,800 fall into blue bins and unfortunately only 3,500-4,000 are recovered - and poor ones.

More than 50% of the recyclable material collected in blue bins is useless and buried in the dump of Patras, Xerolaka.

Burying huge volumes useful for industry and materials society has led the landfill to a 50-meter high overflow with the risk of collapse, a need for new support measures and new cells. On the other hand,

Koin.S.Ep. "RECYCLING TO SOURCE"

The "Recycle at Source" aims at the practical dissemination of recycling by separating materials at home, work, public space: paper, plastics, metals, electrical appliances, batteries, oils. It operates in the neighborhoods of the Arctic Department of Patras and is gradually being extended to the entire Municipality of Patras.

What have they achieved so far?

"Recycle at the Source" has collected and allocated 400 tonnes of a quality recyclable
